Don't Let the Date Define Your Day

Before you start planning your wedding and visiting venues, take a moment to think about what is more important to you — the date or your wedding experience.

Just when you get used to the word "engaged," the wedding planning begins.

Moms, dads, aunts, uncles, grandparents, cousins, friends, coworkers, groomsmen and bridesmaids are all asking the same question...

Before you pick a date

STOP!

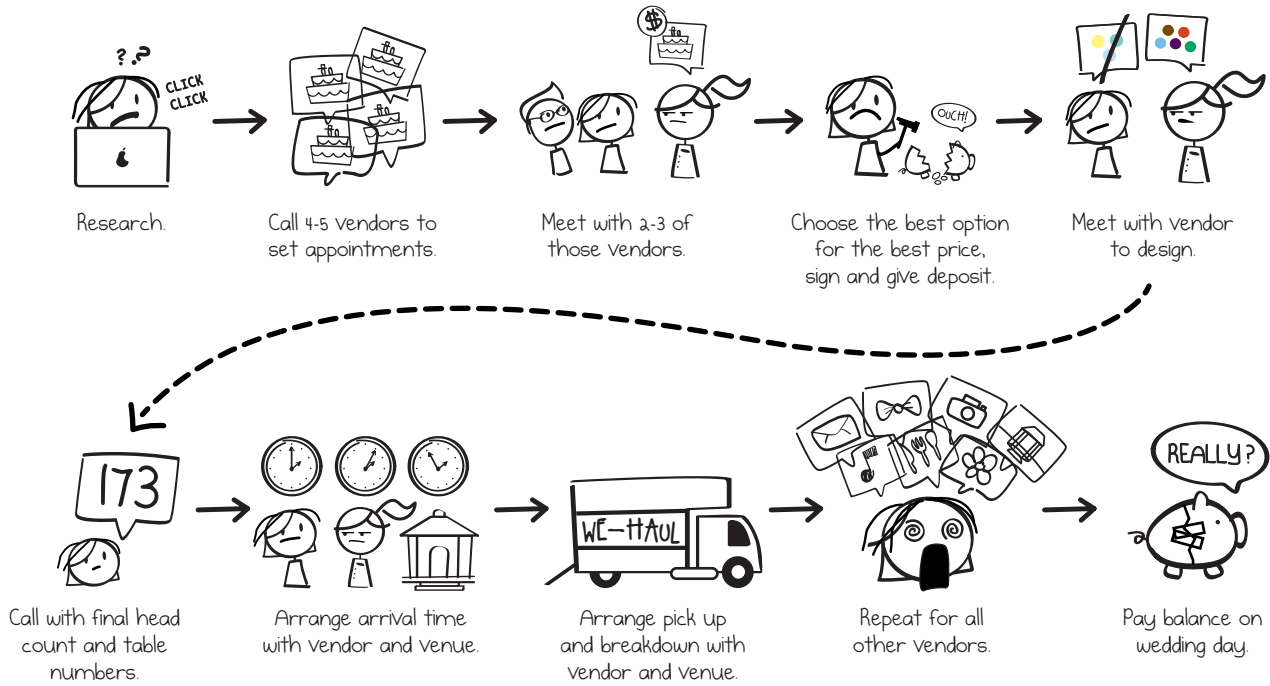

and consider what is more important

Find your perfect fit first, then pick your date.
