

My Wedgewood Wedding

You found the perfect venue, you chose the most beautiful flowers, you ordered a magnificent cake, and it all came together to create an amazing wedding that you and your guests will never forget. Now, Wedgewood Wedding & Banquet Center invites you to participate in an opportunity to share your special day once again—by having it published on a wedding blog or in a magazine!

The process is simple...

- 1) Complete and email the form below to events@wedgewoodbanquet.com.
- 2) If you used a Wedgewood photographer, we will work with them to collect the best images from your wedding day. If you didn't use a Wedgewood photographer, please make sure to provide accurate contact information for your photographer below so we can reach out to them.
- 3) We will then submit your wedding story and photos to bloggers and magazine editors.

If they like what they see, voila! Your wedding gets published!
